Spencer and Reed mix.—Headline.

An unusual proceeding for two Republicans.

Senators Reed, Lodge, Borah and Johnson want to know right away whether or not the President is ill. Nothing short of his death will appease that bunch of pseudonymous patriots.

MISSOURI MAKES FINE RECORD IN SECURITY SALES

PEOPLE AWAKEN TO VALUE OF TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES AND BUY FREELY.

ALL BANKERS ENDORSE THEM

Kahoka Banker Takes Entire Quota for Clark County and Says They Are the Best Investment.

The enthusiastic manner in which bankers and individuals in the Eighth Federal Reserve District are responding to the government's appeal for funds through the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates are exceedingly gratifying, and the sales of the securities far exceed the expectations of Federal Director Wilson.

Although the campaign just began in September, and at the full month was available for the canvass, the quota for this month was largely over-subscribed, and there is every chance of the failure of the four months campaign (that will end December 31) of S. S. Miller, of the Exchange Bank at Kahoka, Clark County, Mo., subscribed for the entire quota for his county, and bought $18,000 of the Treasury Savings Certificates. "I know of no better, safer or more profitable way of investing than in these Treasury Savings Certificates," he said, and he added that he anticipated no trouble in placing all of the bonds he had taken, and expected to double the quota before the campaign ended. G. A. Mueller, of the Bank of St. James, Phelps County, Mo., took the quota for his city. He said he considered the certificates the best securities available and would recommend them to the bank's customers, and would advertise and help to create a demand for them among the bank's customers.

The Bank of Crocker and the Crocker State Bank, Pulaski County, Mo., subscribed for the city's quota. The officers of these banks said that it was the fact that they were paying 4 per cent on time deposits they felt that investments in the government's securities were the best, inasmuch as the interest was fixed for a long period and was not subject to fluctuation.

A banker of Clinton, Mo., in placing his order for the bank's quota of Treasury Savings Certificates, said that he was going to suggest them to his customers in place of the ordinary time deposits. He said that when an investment in government securities was made through his bank it insured a satisfied customer, who became a permanent patron of his bank.

At Calhoun, Mo., when Salesman P. W. Buehler called, the banker was not in. Buehler was introduced to T. J. Bolton, a customer of the bank, who subscribed for $1,000 for himself and another $1,000 Certificate for his wife, purchasing the securities through his bank, thus disposing of the quota for Calhoun.

MINNESOTA GOES AFTER THE SCALPERS

Legislation Asked to Make It an Offense to Buy War Savings Stamps at Low Price.

War Savings Stamp "scalpers" who have been inducing holders of stamps to part with their securities at a sacrifice to the seller and at considerable benefit to the buyer, are likely to have their operations stopped short in Minnesota. M. E. Harrison, War Savings Director of the Ninth District, has asked the Minnesota legislature to enact a law making it illegal for any person to buy War Savings Stamps or Treasury Savings Certificates at less than the price fixed by the government. The proposed act is based on the law recently passed by Rhode Island.

The law has the endorsement of Theodore Wold, governor of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank, and of A. H. Rogers, who directed the war loan organization in the Mill City during the Liberty and Victory Loan campaigns.

BEWARE THIS DISEASE

Financial physicians are warning against the new disease which is appearing in many parts of the country. They have named it "Emthurensia." Persons attacked by this disease uniformly utter the cabalistic words, "the war is over," and decline to take any further interest in the nation's affairs. No serum has been discovered which can prevent the ailment, but investing regularly in War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates is a preventative as act a law making it illegal for any

THE CHEAP DOLLAR.

With the purchasing power of the dollar lower than it has ever been, it is the part of wisdom to put some of them to work earning interest, until the time that money is worth more. War Savings Stamps enable the wage earner to do this. Have what you can and invest it in W. S. S.
